Moore & Depue - 1878 History of San Mateo County:

"Colma is near the northern boundary of the county and being much nearer San Francisco than our county seat, has its business relations mainly in the former. Colma, notwithstanding it, is a small place, is an exception to most towns in the county in that it has some manufacturing interests, the tanning of hides being carried on here quite extensively by Messrs. Grady and Guinee. Aside from the tannery, two stores, one by J. D. Husing, the other by A. Paslaqua (who is postmaster of the place), the blacksmith shop of Jacob Bryan, and the saloon of Geo. M. Calopy, complete the list of business enterprises in the town."

The following information is taken from the Great Register of San Mateo County Oct. 1, 1888, and covers the Colma Precinct, which in turn covers Colma and Redwood.
